“For more than 66 years, the USO has provided unparalleled support to our troopers. Our troopers feel that support [when] they enter a USO center after a long flight; our troopers feel that support when they watch their favorite entertainers on USO tours; our wounded warriors feel that support when they receive clothing, sundry items, DVDs, CDs and other items at our military’s medical facilities through Operation Enduring Care. In providing such magnificent support, the USO has helped link service men and women of the new greatest generation with those of the generations that came before, including the original greatest generation. We know you’ll continue this sacred task in accordance with your motto, ‘Until Every One Comes Home.’”
